FORENSIC CAMPS Child and Adolescent Mental Health services

WHAT IS FORENSIC CAMHS?

CAMHS stands for Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service. Coming to CAMHS doesn't mean you're "mental"! We work with young people who have difficulties with their emotions, thoughts or behaviour. The "forensic" part means we work with young people at risk of offending, or who are known to the Youth Justice System.

WHAT CAN WE HELP WITH?

Many of the young people we work with have risky or concerning behaviours that might get them into trouble and we try and support them in reducing these. Young people might also have some of these difficulties:

- Anxiety (worries) and fears
- ADHD and concentration problems
- Autism Spectrum Disorders
- Self-Harm

- Difficulty managing emotions such as anger or sadness
- Substance misuse
- Difficulties with eating and body image
- Difficulties in relationships

WHAT WILL HAPPEN WHEN YOU COME TO FORENSIC CAMHS?

Before we meet you we'll talk to the person who's referred you. This might be your Youth Justice Worker/Officer or Social Worker.

We meet with you to talk about your difficulties. You can bring your family or Youth Justice worker with you if you want.

We'll work with you to decide the best way to help you and make a plan together.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

CONFIDENTIALITY MYTHS AND FACTS

MYTHS

I don't have a choice about seeing CAMHS – I have to go.

My parents will find out everything I tell you.

You'll make me talk about everything bad that's ever happened to me.

If I tell you something bad you'll tell other services.

FACTS

Coming to CAMHS is voluntary. You can choose if you want to come or not.

We don't have to tell your parents everything. You can talk to us on your own and we can discuss what you're happy to share with them.

We might talk about some of the things that have happened in the past but the focus of our work is on the here and now.

We only share things you tell us with people outside of this service if we're really worried about your safety or the safety of someone else. We will always try and talk to you first if this happens.
